Curious what StoryPad is about? We introduce the promotional materials problem.

Story telling without StoryPad.

1. This is an beautiful designed presentation and promotional material about Aston Martin. Everyone wants it. Right?

2. Like your company, Aston Martin prints brochures and other promotional materials for their customers and gives it to them.

3. Now, once you gave the brochure , presentation, video or other content to the customer, do you know any kind of feedback?

Story telling with StoryPad.

1. This is an beautiful designed presentation and promotional material about Aston Martin. Everyone wants it. Right?

2. Now, deploy and align the material to your marketing/sales team. They are able to present everything on their tablets.

3. Enjoy in powerful feedback and reports about the presentations which you have executed to your customers. No feedback can be hidden.

StoryPad sharpens your presentations.

The idea of the loop.

Every serious process has its own loop and StoryPad integrates the most innovative sales/marketing loop ever.

When we designed StoryPad our goal was to create a tool where every marketing/sales professional who tells stories to customers can easily upload them (PDF, PPT...) to StoryPad, distribute them to his teams and deliver a brand new level of presentations to customers.

Best of all, now you take control over the communication with customers based on comprehensive feedback/analytics from presentations.
